Iced Tea Preparation Coffee Brewer Method:

Using a coffee brewer, place one half-gallon or one gallon tea bag in clean brew basket. Place a clean decanter on burner under basket. Pour 10-12 cups of cold water into brewer. Allow the brewer to complete the brew cycle. Pour into clean desired container and add water to make one half-gallon or one gallon. Sweeten to taste. Cool before serving.

Steeping Method:

Place one half-gallon or one gallon tea bag into desired container. Pour one quart of boiling water over tea bag. Let tea steep for at least 15 minutes or more. The longer the bag steeps, the stronger the tea will taste. Add enough cold water to make one half gallon or one gallon. Sweeten to taste. Cool before serving.

While the water is boiling, measure 1-2 teaspoons of loose tea per 6 ounces of water and place into tea infuser, T-sac, or tea pot with strainer. Once water has come to a boil, pour boiling water into mug over loose tea. Cover and let steep 3-5 minutes, based on taste preference. Remove loose tea. Sweeten to taste.
